6 Admission Selection Method

Applicants will be selected based on comprehensive consideration of the submitted documents and interview (oral examination) results.

a. Examination Date and Format

Date	Format	Time
In principle, a date and time designated separately between Wednesday, December 21, 2022 and Wednesday, December 28, 2022 (individual notifications are sent out as soon as a decision is made)	Interview (oral examination)	In principle, a date and time designated separately between Wednesday, December 21, 2022 and Wednesday, December 28, 2022 (individual notifications are sent out as soon as a decision is made)

b. Interview (oral examination)

- The interview (oral examination) is conducted as an “interview at the examination venue” or an “online interview.” Please consult with the academic supervisor to decide the method of interview.
- The interview (oral examination) consists of questions asked by multiple members of the interviewing panel.
- The interview (oral examination) is conducted in Japanese or English.
- The interview (oral examination) shall take about 30 minutes (presentation for 15 minutes, questions for 15 minutes).
- The presentation shall cover your research achievements, including the outline of your Master’s dissertation, etc., and your research proposal.
- In the case of an “interview at the examination venue,” a projector, screen and cable will be prepared at the examination venue. Those who will give a presentation using a personal computer are requested to bring their own computer, including any necessary adapter.
- If you wish to present your works or design research materials, please follow the prior notes presented by the members of the interviewing panel.
- In the case of an “online interview,” a computer and Internet connection that can support teleconferencing by audio and video are required. Please prepare them yourself. Detailed information about the format and method will be sent to the email address stated in the application form.

7 Notes

- Applicants should contact their academic supervisor of choice one month before the application deadline to thoroughly discuss the content of their research and other relevant matters. In the Graduate School of Design, instruction in the doctoral program is provided by an academic supervisor group, with the desired academic supervisor as the primary supervisor. Note that the official “academic supervisor group” will be decided through consultation with the academic supervisors after admission to the Doctoral Program.

- After the application procedures have been completed, the submitted documents cannot be changed or returned, and the application fee cannot be refunded. However, if you do not apply after paying the application fee, or if the application documents are not accepted, the paid application fee will be refunded.
- You will be asked to show your examination slip during the interview. Please have it ready to show before the interview.
- Please correctly fill in the “Mailing label for notification of acceptance” and “Mailing label for sending documents for entrance procedures,” as these will be used as the mailing address for the respective documents.
- Incomplete applications will not be accepted.
- In the case of an interview (oral examination) at the examination venue, the time limit for access to examinations due to lateness is 30 minutes after the start of the examination. If you are late more than 30 minutes after the start of the examination for unavoidable reasons, such as a transportation accident, please inform the examination invigilator. In the case of an online interview (oral examination), please follow the notes presented by the members of the interviewing panel for the time limit for access to online examinations due to lateness.

V Enrollment

1 Enrollment Procedures

Documents related to the enrollment procedure will be sent to successful applicants in late February 2023.

2 Fees Required at the Time of Enrollment

Enrollment Fee: JPY 282,000 (subject to change)

(Note1) However, regarding applicants who are admitted through April 2023 Admission, those who are expected to complete a Master's program in March 2023 at Kyushu University graduate schools are not required to pay an enrollment fee.

Tuition Fee (per each semester) 267,900 yen (JPY 535,800 yen per annum, subject to change)

(Note2) The tuition fee may be liable to change during the period in which the student is enrolled in the Graduate School of Design. In this case, the revised amount will be applied to the tuition fee at the time of revision.

3 Extension of the Period of Study

The Graduate School of Design has introduced a system which allows students with jobs or other such circumstances who request that they complete the program according to a predetermined schedule over an extended period beyond the normal period of the curriculum to do so according to the stipulations of the Faculty Council of the Graduate School of Design.

If you are approved to extend the period of study under this system, the amount of tuition to be paid per year will be the amount of tuition for the normal period of the curriculum (3 years) divided by the number of years (4, 5 or 6 years) that the student is allowed to take the course as planned until the completion of the course.
